Exchange Visits

Key Principles and Summary of Guidance

Exchange Visits provide valuable and often unique experiences for young people to experience other cultures, develop new friendships and thus broaden their horizons and knowledge.

Staying with a host family gives young people a first-hand opportunity to use their language skills in a real context.

By following national best practice and these guidelines it will be possible to establish, manage and maintain safe and productive exchange visits.

Please view the Pupil Exchange Visits Mindmap - see Appendix A - focusing on the considerations when planning an exchange visit.
Summary of Guidance

Expectations and assurances should be established for all parties involved (young people, teachers, host families and schools/establishments) and these must be fair and reciprocal as far as is reasonably practicable.

Specific guidance should be provided for host families about your expectations.

Specific guidance should be provided for young people covering personal safety.

Exchange visits differ from other visits in that young people are not directly supervised by teachers/youth workers etc whilst they are with host families; exchanges thus require thorough and carefully planned risk management.

Careful matching of exchange partners is central to successful visits.

PREPARATION AND PLANNING

Legal and Cultural Differences

The legal definitions of what constitutes a ‘child’ and a ‘criminal offence’ vary across European countries, not to mention global differences in such definitions. Crossing the road without using pedestrian crossing points or dropping litter are two examples of offences punishable by spot fines in some countries, behaviour which some young people would think of as acceptable in the UK. Young people must be made aware of these differences and the consequences of such actions abroad.

Research prior to the visit in this respect will pay dividends whilst in the host country. A consideration of what constitutes good manners will help with acceptance in host family homes.

Risk Management

Leaders should follow the detailed guidance on risk assessment covered within this guidance.

In addition to assessing risks inherent in any external visit, there are additional risks relating to exchange visits that will require extra consideration. In order to reduce the possibility of harm it will be necessary to consider additional control measures, some of which may be considered best by answering the following questions:

- Are families and young people carefully matched with due regard to gender, diet, religious belief, special needs etc?

- Are families known to the host school/establishment, have they been affirmed as suitable, and is there a hosting agreement form which includes a question regarding criminal convictions or other contra-indicators?

- Has consideration been given to the safety and well-being of the young people during travel, and does this include appropriate drivers and transport whilst with the host family?

- Are young people and host families aware of a 24 hour contact number and fully briefed as to procedures should problems arise?

- Do leaders have daily contact with all young people and do young people have an agreed ‘keyword’ that they can use which means ‘I want you to visit me immediately’?
• Will young people have access to a phone and/or can they use a mobile phone if necessary to call or text messages to staff?

• Have young people been briefed about personal safety?

• Does work experience feature as part of the exchange and if so, has an assessment been made by an appropriate person about any significant hazards the work environment may present? Recent legislation has made work experience on exchange visits difficult to organise safely within the law.

• Have acceptable and unacceptable activities on ‘family days' been discussed and if necessary has parental agreement been sought prior to the visit? For example: is there an opportunity to go skiing, cycling or horse riding with the host family, or a visit to a beach and thus swimming? If so, parental consent is required.

• Do you have a Contingency plan in place that considers unforeseen events, such as emergencies, severe weather or the requirement to find alternative accommodation if it becomes necessary to move a young person from their host family?

Pre-visits

Where a visit is arranged for the first time or involves a significant number of new staff, a preliminary visit is strongly recommended and may reassure all parties and provide details and photographs for a presentation to parents.

This will serve as a control measure in itself as well as being an opportunity to consider a specific risk assessment first hand.

The issues raised in ‘Risk Management’ (see above) should be considered during a preliminary visit and discussed with colleagues on both sides of exchange.

STAFFING

Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) Checks. (Previously known as CRB Checks)

The Disclosure and Barring Service is designed to support employers make safer recruitment decisions and prevent potential offenders from working with young and vulnerable young people. The DBS was created in December 2012 following a merger between the Criminal Records Bureau and Independent Safeguarding Authority (ISA) (UK.Gov, 2014).

The LA recommends that individuals engaged in regulated activity with young people should undergo an enhanced DBS check. Schools, Academies, PRUs or educational establishment who seek guidance from the Local Authority should inform the host family adults that DBS checks may be made. This is a control measure so that unsuitable host families are not hosting young people.

Further guidance on the definition of ‘regular activity’ can be found from the Outdoor Education National Panel DBS guidance: http://oeapng.info/downloads/download-info/3-2g-vetting-and-disclosure-and-barring-service-dbs-checks/

For Further information on the DBS guidance and procedures in Somerset please contact: The SCC Disclosure Department Tel. 01823 356723.
The exact equivalent to DBS checks are unlikely to be available in all countries, therefore the visit leader in this case must ensure that the host school or agency has a vetting procedure in place to assess the suitability of home placements and obtain confirmation of this in writing.

‘If the host school or placing agency does not have appropriate measures in place for carrying out checks to ensure the health, safety and welfare of exchange or home stay young people, the visit leader should seek further assurances and/or reconsider whether the visit should take place.’ (HASPEV 1998)

LEADER AND STAFF COMPETENCE

Language Capability

The majority of the exchange visits involving schools/establishments are language based and thus normally include language staff as group leaders.

It is important that there is someone who can act in the interests of the group who is available 24 hours and able to communicate fluently.

Visit leaders should ensure this is in place prior to the visit.

Experience

Host family visits are usually led by colleagues with considerable experience and expertise and it is important that this experience is shared.

Previous exchange visit leaders may be promoted, move schools or retire, etc, and thus a wealth of experience and expertise may be lost.

It is important that visits include ‘succession planning’ and any future visit leader has the opportunity in the first instance to learn as much as possible by acting as an assistant leader.

Visit leaders should ensure that 24-hour access is available to a competent person who has all necessary background knowledge of the host culture.

PREPARATION OF YOUNG PEOPLE, PARENTS AND STAFF

Host Families

There is clearly a need to take every reasonable step to ensure the safety and well-being of visiting young people when they stay with families in our country. Vetting of host families is crucial to ensuring the safety and protection of young people.

The vetting of host families should include:

- DBS Checks
- Verification of family structure
• Code of Conduct
• House rules
• Home visit checks
• Information sharing and gathering
• Sleeping arrangements
• Family activities
• Transportation including drivers

The form EV8: Exchange/Home Stay Visits: Host Family Information should be used to gather information about the host families.

Parents Evening

It is important that parents are fully informed about the visit in order to make their consent decisions including ‘plan B’ arrangements. This should include:

- Expectations regarding behaviour of young people, including circumstances in which parents should be prepared for their children to be sent home early, or to be responsible for the collection of their children (Code of Conduct?)

- A detailed programme of the entire visit, including family days and acceptable activities that may be provided by host families, e.g. skiing, swimming, night clubs, etc.

- A document that explains how and when young people may, or may not be directly supervised by accompanying staff and how they can communicate with those staff.

- Expectations regarding, downtime, ‘curfew’ times, bedtimes, alcohol, smoking, etc.

- Procedures in case young people are not happy in their host family homes.

Frequently asked questions at parents’ evenings include the following:

- Who is hosting my son/daughter and what checks have been made on the accommodation?

- Have the family hosted before and what assurances or checks have been made on their suitability?

- What is the policy regarding alcohol, smoking, drugs, videos, curfews, bedtimes etc?

- Can I contact my son/daughter and can I contact the visit leaders if necessary?

- Can they contact me?

- If my child has a problem, how do they contact leaders and how long would it be before they were visited?

- What experience do the leaders have of this particular visit and visits in general?
What are the travel arrangements and what are the supervision details during travel periods?

Personal Safety

Staff

Staff should also be aware of issues relating to personal safety and professional protection, especially in order to avoid situations that could lead to accusations of improper conduct.

Young People

The Travel Scenario Cards, produced by the Foreign and Commonwealth Office, provides some useful scenarios for young people who are planning to travel overseas. The cards are designed to present different scenarios for young people and it is recommended that the scenarios are discussed in line with general personal safety between young people and parents/teaching staff who may also have experience of or are planning to attend the same trip.

Please also refer to the Travel scenario card answers for guidance and answers to the scenarios posed from the travel scenarios.

Bilingual Help Cards

It is recommended that young people are supplied with a small pocket sized laminated card with bi-lingual information to include useful phrases in an emergency, for example:

- The young person holding this card may need help
- Please contact their leader on the following number
- Or at the following address . . .
- They are staying at . . . , phone number . . . , etc

Issues Relating to Censorship

Home Entertainment, Theatre and Cinema Visits

Visit leaders will need to establish clear policies regarding acceptable cinema, theatre, DVD, video along with Internet usage and access.

Work Experience

Any exchange visit that includes work experience should refer to, and be considered in the context of, the LA’s own policy for work experience. Where this does not cover work experience abroad, special arrangements may need to be made, in which case organisers are recommended to contact the relevant LA officer at the earliest possible stage of planning.

Additional Considerations

Young People with Special Needs

It is now widely recognised that young people with special needs have been more vulnerable to abuse than others and therefore face additional risks whilst visiting abroad. These individuals, however, also have the right to have their horizons expanded through travelling abroad. In order to make such exchanges possible, the same general guidelines apply but in addition the visit leader will have to put into place more stringent checks and balances.
The following additional procedures and advice are recommended over and above those detailed in the previous section:

An advanced planning visit is essential for trips involving young people with SEN.

A higher ratio of adults/carers is required and there must also be an appropriate ratio of male/female adults.

As part of the risk assessment process, it should be considered whether an appropriately trained person be part of the staff team.

All teachers supervising visits should be aware of young peoples medical needs and medical emergency procedures.

Check whether travel insurance covers pre-existing health conditions. If not, insure with a company which specialises in policies for these young people.

Assess suitability of host family - ramps, lifts, wide doorways, adapted toilets etc.

Housekeeping arrangements for disposal of soiled dressings, pads etc.

In some cases bunk beds may not be appropriate.

Contact to be made with young people whilst with host family.

Availability of interpreter and leader trained if required in the appropriate communication medium i.e. sign language.

A suitable social area should be available for group meetings etc.
